

☘ Afternoon ☘

After lunch, those who weren't too full to walk, drove to the horse trailer parking lot to search the adjacent meadow for butterflies with Monica Miller and wildflowers with Dianne Machesney. By then it was hot and humid. Sun hats and water were requirements, except for Curt Lehman who could probably walk the Sahara Desert without a water bottle or hat with no ill effects!!! Those who stayed behind at the picnic shelter relaxed with a little creek fishing and dragonfly ID with the help of George Bercik.

By 4PM people started drifting towards home. The clean-up crew completed their work, leaving the shelter cleaner than we found it, by 6:00 pm.

Our thanks to the picnic committee and walk leaders who made it all happen, with a big thank you to Diane Machesney.
